

Kirwan Danny, Summer Days And Summer Nights

Summer days and summer nights
Far away from city lights
And you, my love, without your sweet song
In the world
Drifting like a summer breeze (call my name along the way)
And in the afternoon
We'll walk and find the things to say
But now's the time to say goodbye
To the magic in your eyes
To the magic in your eyes
To the magic in your eyes
Drifting like a summer breeze
Sometimes you call my name along the way
And in the afternoon
We'll walk and find the things to say
But now's the time to say goodbye
To the magic in (your eyes)
To the magic in your eyes
To the magic in your eyes
Drifting like a summer breeze
Sometimes you call my name along the way
And in the afternoon
We'll walk and find the things to say
But now's the time to say goodbye
To the magic in your eyes
To the magic in your eyes
To the magic in your eyes
To the magic in your eyes
To the magic in your eyes
