

Kiss, Partners In Crime

Alright

I know your wheels are turning, got your fire burning
I know your heart's as cold as stone
You're covered in abuses, dripping with excuses
I know you got a lover at home

But you'll come here to me, time after time
You'll go down on your knees
Yeah girl I can read your mind
Because we're partners in crime, partners in crime

Your going empty handed, smiling like a bandit
Knocking on my window each night
You're sweeter than a beauty queen, darker than a limousine
Need me cause I feel right

Yeah when it's sink or it's swim and the temperature flies
You get your body so close and lay it all on the line
Because we're partners in crime, partners in crime
Because we're partners in crime, ooh yeah

When it's sink or swim and the tale's that's you're blind
You get your body so close and lay it all on the line
Because we're partners in crime, partners in crime
Ooh yeah, because we're partners in crime
Because we're partners in crime
Partners in crime, partners in crime
Let's go, ha
