

Kitty Wells, Old Records

Old records bring back mem'ries pictures bring back tears

Do you ever think of me after all these years

I found a stack of old records that we used to listen to

And there beside the records were pictures of me and you

So I dusted off the records and played them one more time

I listened and looked at the pictures and almost lost my mind

Cause old records bring back...

Like the songs on the records we were a big hit of yesterday

And when you held me in the pictures I didn't know I didn't know you'd fade away

But old records bring back...
