

Kooks, In My Opinion

only i can find a little piece of my mind take you out and we'd sit beneath the moon of what i think inside of you, i do see you would love to be free so take it now its your right theres no need to fight take a piece of my heart for you, take a piece of my love for her take a piece of my heart for him, take a piece of my soul i tried once again to get my opinion up in their minds their just far too blind taking all of me and put it in the bottom of the sea if they were right if only you could find a little piece of your time i take you to a club where they strip oh dont bite those sweet lips
inside of you i do see i know i know you dont want me to oh cause everything's sugard up sugard up more than it seems take a piece of my love for her, take a piece of my soul for him take a piece of my heart for you, take a piece of my soul i tried once again to get my opinions in their minds they just dont have mine want my wish my life, as they sold by my side, shaddowy stain - suddenly stays
