I believe it is destiny
We hugged each other strongly under the hot sky
And sound of the surf was burned
Feeling dizzy momentarily and heat devil shaken
I saw you counting sound of wave distantly

Ah Scenery too brilliant surely is It's a phantom, mummering autumn's voice

Memories with you disappear on the waves
Where are you living now?

Out of season rain continues to beat on me

Hey, what have you forgotten?
It is too far and high, autumn's sky

Visiting the October shores alone
Feeling time on the water's calm surface
Standing still and saying nothing

Yet another new season comes
The cool autumn wind passes before me
