</lyrics>

The deep darkness where the sigh lies hidden the voice which becomes stale the pleat of the heart's opening where it cracks soaking in the scar which is opened

But after just a little sneak away it may ,being perplexed,you should have opened the either door don't you think?

Already as for the sluggish pain where it cannot return to that place you do not feel anymoreFrom the day when it does the ear in the sound which scampers in the head which starts to be broken increases

You shout with the voice which the colorless dress dances and withers although it does not reach, The glasswork which is lacking an ideal where the night and sorrow is warped Way cool wind there, where it keeps closing the hole which was opened in the body and is not filled up

Now when you inserted in the key hand which shines more doubtfully than the novel where end is visible from beginning so it trembled Already, the trace which appears in the wheel which the ice cannot return in that day and dissolved draws it loved, mono polluting, you became frightened to the shadow and closed the eyelid Feeling the end answering to echo in the voice which the heart is twisted in slurps and cries such there is no personal opinion which you fall ill with the look like the glass

Already as for the sluggish pain where it cannot return to that place you do not feel anymore From the day when it does the ear in the sound which scampers in the head starts being broken increases

Already, the trace which appears in the wheel which the ice which cannot return in that day and dissolved draws it loved, mono polluting, you became frightened to the shadow and closed the eyelid
