

Kottonmouth Kings, Riddled (Interlude)

Power and greed?
That's not for me.
I'd rather walk my own paths,
I'd rather plant my own seeds.
So a plant is a threat to the American dream?
I guess the land of the free ain't what it seems.
But for those that are free, say like you and me,
understand the meaning of true liberty.
For those who don't, here's what I say,
you've been tricked and fooled in every way.
Riddled by the system of our's,
driven by greed and gas guzzeling cars.
So don't confront, and don't obey.
Live your life stoning, and find your own way
