

Kreator, Shadowland

In a land where no love can be born
Self destruction everywhere
A restless soul on it's search for an answer
Sees through this masquerade of despair
In a time where no love can be born
Desperation frozen eyes
A restless soul so alone no direction
Suffering as they follow the blind
This is a new dawn rising
Over this Shadowland
Tearing you from the world that you used to know

In a land where no love can be born
Isolation is the price
And the horror of this cold souless place here
Put everlasting stains on your life
In a time where no love can be born
Another crisis yet to come
A senseless life breeds a senseless death
Wondering what kind of pain will come next

This is a new dawn rising
Over this Shadowland
Tearing you from the world that you used to know

Tired of being alive losing every time
Suffering side by side shadows of mankind

This is a new dawn rising
Over this Shadowland
Tearing you from the world that you used to know
