Kristian Valen, Too Far

let me go
I can't take this pain no more
let me go
even though
I know I'll miss you so
let me go
if you can't promise you'll be there this is a waste of my time there is nothing left to share but you go babe
you and I
we've come too far
much too far to be letting go I know I failed you
I know I've done wrong
but we are connected
we are one
I can feel
the love you say
is not burning
I can feel it
I know it's there but I need you to tell me the truth now babe do you care?
if you can't promise you'll be there
then why am I wasting my time and all that I can spare in my darkest hour of despair I need to know if you still care cause if you don't need me any more then let me go
