

Kristy Lee Cook, Perfect Love

Perfect love
It's you I'm thinking of
When the morning breaks
When the evenin' takes the day
And I yearning for you grows
Longing for your arms
To hold me close

I look into the sky
And every star I see
Reminds me of the perfect love
That yearns in you and me
The sweetness of your kiss
The softness of your touch
I can't believe
I have found the perfect love

Perfect love
The autumn moon above
Paints the ocean bright
Calms the waves
And lights the night
I pray when this evenin' through
That you guide me save
Back home to you

I look into the sky
And every star I see
Reminds me of the perfect love
That yearns in you and me
The sweetness of your kiss
The softness of your touch
I can't believe
I have found the perfect love

I close my eyes
And make a wish
That when
I open them you're in my arms again
Standing on the shore
Lost in loves and praise
My hearts commences
All my senses
Come to life and taste

The sweetness of your kiss
The softness of your touch
I can't believe
I have found the perfect love

I can't believe
We have found the perfect love
