

Kristy Thirsk, Something Spilt

it's not worth it to throw it all away i know you care, so i clear the air i don't want to live without you oh won't let you go
no, won't give up without a fight oh cherish what we've built so what if something spilt?
time's moving, hope's wounded in a ditch don't watch them drain to remove your pain i know you know it's not working now i still won't live without you
oh won't let you go
no, won't give up without a fight
oh cherish what we've built
so what if something spilt?
oh won't let go
no, won't give up
oh cherish what we've built
so what if something spilt?