

Kristy Thirsk, What If I

(Thirsk/Hiratzka)

In another life did I do something right?
For you to finally find me and carry me home
You give me a world, where my heart is filled
There's no room for sadness, for anything else

What if I never found a way to your love
How would I, I survive when you are my soul
All my life I would hide the memory of you
I know that love can't be here without you

When I felt so lost, so alone and wandering
Through my deepest sorry you reached though the dark
I look for your light, i try not to worry
'cause i know you'll always carry me home

What if I never found a way to your love
How would I, I survive when you are my soul
All my life I would hide the memory of you
I know that love can't be here without you
I know that love can't be here without you
Without you
