

Krzysztof Kiljański, It Is You

I'm waiting for a new day, hoping for a new way searching for reasons to believe, is it true I'm praying for a new life I'm hoping like a lost child that someone is out there somewhere dreaming too, is it you Someday I will follow my lonely heart, when it falls in love all over again there's a place where I'll find you I'll be right behind you yearning for that moment waiting for that day just to see that true familiar face, familiar eyes, smiling like sunny skies, is it you I'm waiting for a new dance, waiting for a new chance and I know that you're waiting somewhere too, it is true I'm praying for a new life, I'm hoping like a lost child and I'm sure that you dream the same dreams too is it you, is it true Someday I will follow my lonely heart, when it falls in love all over again
there's a place where I'll find you I'll be right behind you
yearning for that moment waiting for that day just to see that true
familiar face, familiar eyes, smiling like sunny skies, is it you
