

La Mafia, Forbidden Love

I think I already knew
Before you walked into the room
That it was our destiny
This love that never should be
You've got your world and I've got mine
But we both know that it's a matter of time

I love you
I know it's wrong to say
But I have to
I need you
More than words can say
But it's no use, no use
With this forbidden love

I used to wonder what I'd say
If I could just get you away
I used to see it in my dreams
Now it's become reality
We have to make this moment last
We may never get a second chance
