

Lacrimas Profundere, The Shadow I Once Kissed

Your poison lips they taste like a thunder
Your foggy hips are such a wonder to me
I love you still but I can't touch your skin
And I feel your sin
And I can't hide from the shadow that I once kissed
She's on my side
She's so sweet, is lovely mist
And there is no more understanding
There won't be anything in reach
It must be right
'Cause she's the shadow I kissed
There is so much haze to remember
You are my maze and I surrender to you
I breathe your legs and I drink from your high heels
I am on my knees
