

Lacuna Coil, Lost Lullaby

Simple as i am
The lies around are convincing me theres nothing right there outside only breeze

cold that rescues me
the wound in here
Is reminding me that i'll be one day
Just a broken wheel onto your way

I dont want to please you forever

While the magic dice
are on the ground
It's so hard to decide between myself and you pain is covering me

As a healing wind
that clears the sky
will you promise me the things you told me?
will you give me everything i want?

I dont want to please you forever

no lies im purified
and no more failure in my life water onto my fire

I dont want to please you forever