Lacuna Coil, Underdog

You are going down You are going down You are going down Down At the bottom I have found I cannot wait to get back in the fight And send you straight to the ground Hide and seek When I'm on the ropes You wanna knock me down, knock me out Your cheap shots are denied You're going down You can't kill my soul and kill me dream Back down Now You will understand me now You don't want to come back to the fight I've been the underdog all my life I can feel it I will not stop until I see you down On the ground Cause I am still alive
