

Ladytron, Predict The Day

predict the day you wanted to get away a second chance is calling for you predict the day you wanted to get away no second chance is calling for you predict the day you sentence your enemies don't look away they're coming for you predict the day you're bathing in victory a second chance had fallen for you Predict the day the night's never ending a shadow falls, darken your face i never thought i didn't think twice

i never thought
