

Lampshade, Tonight I Will Retire

Oh tonight I will retire
To the arms of my lover
The sweetest kiss he will give
As I lay down beside him

What will he think
When he awakes
Just to find I have left here

And oh tonight I will retire
To these hands with revolvers
And I don't fear death
I will commit
Like an old friend I've known forever

So come on in, take me on
No I won't stay here no longer

And if I should taste fire
Save me not, I deserve to die
And if I should taste fire
Save me not, I deserve to die

And oh tonight I will retire
To the loving arms of my savior
And we will walk through his gates
To the skies of Heaven

And no more tears will I cry
Are my sins, are they forgiven?

And if I should taste fire
Save me not, I deserve to die
And if I should taste fire
Save me not, I deserve to die
