

LANY, Thick And Thin

Late night, your eyes fell to the floor I'm trying to make sense But you're losing your patience Hands talk, won't stop, we go to war In the heat of the moment You think that we're broken

I could see my whole life with you baby now you got me thinking that I;m crazy cause you're

out the door, just one mistake you say you're not in love no more but was t really love if you can leave me for something so innocent?
is this the end?
thought you'd be there through thick and thin can't sleep, can't eat my mind's a mess what are you thinking?

you were happy last weekend all the good times how'd you forget?
I was your best friend remember when you said

I could see my whole life with you baby

but was t really love if you can leave me for
something so innocent?
is this the end?
thought you'd be there through thick and thin

said you'd be there fro me through everything said that you'd have me back with anything /2x

now you're out the door, just one mistake you say you're not in love no more
but was t really love if you can leave me for
something so innocent?
is this the end?
thought you'd be there through thick and thin
