

Lapis Lazuli, Home

I have always felt lonely
Why can't I be just like everybody else
They are ashamed, they don't want to be Near me, know me, feel me
Give me a second chance
I just don't get why they never understood
That I feel like I'm dying inside

I just feel like there's nowhere to go
I just feel like I never belonged
I just wanna find a place to call home

Please, say why you hate me
Why do you see me as someone without soul
Please, think of me
As one of you, I beg
Hear me, see me, feel me
Give me a second chance
I don't know why you keep pushing me down
Just know that I am proud of who I am

I just feel like there's nowhere to go
I just feel like I never belonged
I just wanna find a place to call home

You're not pushing me down
I don't care about you
Don't you even try to put me down
I don't care, I am stronger than you
Hear me now, I am proud, I am stronger than you

I will never back down
I will go my own way
Don't ever think that you get to decide what I say and what I do
