Another day slips away
And once again I've hardly even seen your face
To get any time together
We have to beg steal and borrow
So we put off until tomorrow
The love we need to share today
Right here right now
Baby let's stop for a minute
Taste this moment while we're in it
Let's take it and let's make it
All that heaven will allow
Yesterday is a memory
Tomorrow's just a dream
And we know all that matters anyhow
Is the love that we've been given
And the joy we find in livin'

The precious time we have together
Is here and gone so fast
Let's just hold each other
Like this chance might be our last

Baby let's stop for a minute
Taste this moment while we're in it
Let's take it and let's make it
All that heaven will allow
Yesterday is a memory
Tomorrow's just a dream
And we know all that matters anyhow
Is the love that we've been given
And the joy we find in livin'
