

Larue, Lift Up

In my heart there is a choice
And in my throat there is a voice
That wants to boldly speak of You today

Speak Your truth in this time
Where darkness falls before it's night
And Lord, I pray above all else today...

That I will lift up Your name
And if I fall down, show grace
Completely love You
Love You today, today

So come and break me of my pride
Enough for me to be a light
Standing firm foundations made of faith

And I will lift up Your name
And if I fall down, show grace
Completely love You
Love You today, today

So I will lift up Your name
And if I fall down, show grace
Completely love You
Love You today, today

I want to lift up Your name
And if I fall down, show grace
Completely love You
Love You today, today

Today, today, today
