LCD Soundsystem, Never As Tired As When I'm

Wasted and complacent And you about the same But still I want to get it On with you tonight When I was a little boy I laid down in the grass I'm sure you'd feel the same if I Could fuck you here tonight

But I'm never as tired as when I'm waking up I'm never as tired as when I'm waking up But it feels like I'm in love again No it feels like I'm in love again Though it feels like I'm in love again With what you do

If we made it happen I'm sure what we would do Run outside and fuck someone To show it didn't mean a thing Seems it could be simple If I could just grow up Never gonna get it now Cause I'll never grow

But I'm never as tired as when I'm waking up I'm never as tired as when I'm waking up But it feels like I'm in love again No it feels like I'm in love again Though it feels like I'm in love again With what you do

But not with you (Keep on telling myself it's true) But not with you (Keep on telling myself it's true) But not with you (Keep on telling myself it's true) But not with you (Keep on telling myself it's true) But not with you (Keep on telling myself it's true) But not with you (Just keep on telling myself it's true) But not with you (Just keep on telling myself it's true) But not with you (Just keep on telling myself it's true)
