

LeAnn Rimes, Little More Time

I've been runnin so fast I didn't see the world pass me by Just kept spinnin on without me

Monday turned to Friday like a blur January was July
And I don't know why

Been poppin pills and seeing shrinks
Tellin me all about my anxiety

I just need some time to break away, from this state mind
I want to find a lighter side of me
Always try to please everybody thinks I'm so strong
But sometimes I get weak
They give me all their remedies
When all I really need, is a little more time for me

Finally gonna open my eyes, the possibilities surround me

I want the love of my life all the things that money can't buy
Peace of mind
Life like this would be the sweetest dream,
But right know it's not my reality

I just need some time to break away from this state mind
I want to find a lighter side of me
Always try to please everybody thinks I'm so strong
But sometimes I get weak
They give me all there remedies
When all I really need, is a little more time for me

Time to breathe, time to be me, time to learn Time to fall, time to save myself from it all

[chorus]
