

LeAnn Rimes, Rumour 'Bout A Revolution

Everybody's talkin bout something a lot of static and a lot of nothin pollutin the air with who the hell cares kinda gossip headlines to spare in our pockets in our pockets it's a shame but we could all stop it tell a neighbor tell a friend it ain't a 60's thing we still need a little help

Rumor bout a revolution spread a little soul solution let it stir in the wind come on let a chance begin raise a hand not a fist yeah ignorance ain't bliss if it leaves us in ruins

Ain't it easy passing judgement just to entertain ourselves I'm not here pointing fingers been guilty myself you see there's a bigger picture with a million point of views well love ain't a color it's a damn strong mother and it ain't gonna lie

yeah ignorance ain't bliss if it leaves us in ruins

[Repeat Chorus]
