

Lee Roy Parnell, Crocodile Tears

First time you came back to me crying on my shoulder begging please
Take me back I wasn't smart
I believed that you were for real then you kept on breaking every deal
That you made with my heart

Don't cry your crocodile tears you don't fool for me for a minute baby
You're not truly sorry after all
Don't cry your crocodile tears I can see right through you baby
Those tears mean nothing when they fall

Promise that our love won't die shaking in my arms you softly lie
Without me you'd fall apart
I've seen it all before and now I'm not gonna buy it anymore
Not again not with my heart

Don't cry your crocodile tears...

I've been trying to keep a flame burning with desire
But you keep playing games anywhere there's a fire

Don't cry your crocodile tears...
Don't cry your crocodile tears don't cry your crocodile tears
Don't cry your crocodile tears don't cry your crocodile tears
