Lee Roy Parnell, You're Taking Too Long

You&#039;re taking too long to make your mind up
I got to know what you&#039;re gonna do
You&#039;re taking too long to make your mind up
And I got my heart set on loving you

I took you out early last week said I made you feel so fine
I might be your only one you said you just need a little more time

You&#039;re taking too long...

I sit alone by the telephone wonderin&#039; why you don&#039;t call me
Could it be that there is somebody else and I am just too blind to see

You&#039;re taking too long...

[sax - guitar]
 They say good things come to those who wait
And baby I&#039;m a patient man
But how long can you hesitate
Before my love slips right through your hands

You&#039;re taking too long...
You&#039;re taking too long...
You&#039;re taking too long...
