

Lee Ryan, These Words

Have you ever seen a gold horizon
Touching on your heart it makes you weep
This is what she said to me
Whispered softly in my ear while sleeping

Walk the shore of life and don't be frightened
Every corner turned you'll see me there
Call my name reach out your hand
Let me know I'll understand your grievance

These words that you gave me
You loved and you made me
What you wanted me to see is what you wanted me to be

These words that you gave me
You loved and you made me
What you wanted me to see is what you wanted me to be
You were the making of me

One day you will see the gold horizon
Tell me of the breaking dawn that day
You'll be old and I'll be gone
In echoes you'll hear of our song you'll listen.
