

Left Front Tire, She's Too Fast

Last night's dare, didn't know that she'd be there.

I guess I'm tempting fate again.

She likes rock and roll, doesn't take it slow.

She's only living for the day.

She thinks the sky could fall at anytime and I can't change her mind tonight.

She's a runaway girl, and I can't keep up with her.

She's all right for tonight but I can't keep up with her.

She's too fast for me.

She caught my stare and she took over from there.

I'm tongue tied so I just smile.

She doesn't realize what she could see in my eyes, but that's alright because she's in the mood.

She's not looking for Mr. Right.

She just wants to have fun tonight but I can't change her mind tonight.
