

Legenda, Black Sky

The shades of evening were falling fast
My body shivering in the cold

A light wind casts her odour in my wake
Her eyes reminding me of my eternal agony

Her lifeless pale face in the stare of my eyes
Her bloodless weak body at the moment of
The blackened sky

As the sand absorbed the drizzling rain
It sucked in her reddish blood I made her die

The black sky

Please forgive me

Her black sky
