

Lehnen, Ashes And The Stones

turn the ashes and the stones back into a home with your arms and teeth.
turn the writing into ink, maybe then you think you'll stand up and see.
get back where you started from.
rearrange your bones.
put you back into the throne.
and relive those days.
blacken out the grays to undo your age.
who are you kidding, no one believes you.
there must be so much more.
