

Lemon Demon, The Next Dimension

Before stairs were invented, before ladders were invented, before express elevators were invented

See you in the next dimension.
It's beyond our comprehension.
Life is lovely, not to mention
Extra lively.
Pyramid says, In God we trust,
Maybe that's a lie
So he can get away from us.

Humanity just gave me a funny look. Humanity tried to turn away from me, but apparently I'm a par

See you in the next dimension.
It's beyond our comprehension.
Life is lovely, not to mention
Extra lively.
Pyramid says In God we trust,
Maybe that's a lie
So he can get away from us.

Bearing in mind that the numbers we find
To label dimensions, are vertically lined,
And if we find time to leave numbers behind,
We'll get close encounters of the god-knows-what kind.

See you in the next dimension.
It's beyond our comprehension.
Life is lovely, not to mention
Extra lively.
Pyramid says In God we trust,
Maybe that's a lie
So he can get away from us.

P.S. Never mind everything I just said.
