Lemur Voice, Memory Lane

A door closes, the locks are sealed, the voices remain No breath taken, reliving stabs of the past Resignation in fear Just sigh and inhale, the air will harden Trapped in your fake defence, you swallow

There's no way out, so close the way in Build the wall, more will than heart

The voices, the fear, the oppression remains Reliving, stabs of the past It's for your soul to know You'll have to go down
