Lene Marlin, How It Would Be

What have I done? What if it's too late now? Did I do all I could, did I? Did I make it good, did I?

Somehow it doesn't feel right Is it really all over? Did I think it through, did I? What if all I want is you?

And now I won't see you again The moment was there but we lost it Time changed it all And we let it We let it happen

And now
I wonder how it would be
If things stayed the same and we liked it
The end of a search 'cos we found it
How would it be?
How would it be?
How would it be?
How would it be?

What have we done?
What if it's too late now?
Was it always like this, was it?
Was it something we missed, was it?

Somehow it doesn't feel right Is it really all over?
Was it all it could be, was it?
Did I give you the best of me?

And now I won't see you again The moment was there but we lost it Time changed it all And we let it We let it happen

And now
I wonder how it would be
If things stayed the same and we liked it
The end of a search 'cos we found it
How would it be?
How would it be?
How would it be?
How would it be?

And now I won't see you again The moment was there but we lost it Time changed it all And we let it We let it happen

And now I wonder how it would be If things stayed the same and we liked it The end of a search 'cos we found it How would it be? How would it be? How would it be? How would it be?
