

Leona Lewis, Stop Of The Clock

Sitting on the call
Staring at the stars
Leaning on your shoulder

I wanna cry until I love the love until I cry
Don't wanna let a single moment of you pass me by
If only I could freeze the frame you know that I would
Stay right here for you

I I wanna stop the clocks tonight
I I wanna tear its hands right off
I I wanna stop the world from turning
And stay right here for you

I I want the sun to get to bright
I I I will never leave your sight
I I wanna stop the clocks tonight
And stay right here for you

I'd rather spend my life
Wish on less with you
Than dancing with another
Oh oh

I wanna cry until I love the love until I cry
Don't wanna let a single moment of you pass me by
If only I could freeze the frame you know that I would
Stay right here for you

I I wanna stop the clocks tonight
I I wanna tear its hands right off
I I wanna stop the world from turning
And stay right here for you

I I want the sun to get to bright
I I I will never leave your sight
I I wanna stop the clocks tonight
And stay right here for you

You..
Stay..

I I wanna stop the clocks tonight
I I wanna tear its hands right off
I I wanna stop the world from turning
And stay right here for you

I I want the sun to get to bright
I I I will never leave your sight
I I wanna stop the clocks tonight
And stay right here for you

I I wanna stop the clocks tonight
I I wanna tear its hands right off
I I wanna stop the world from turning
