Lesley Roy, Misfit

You never close your eyes You never sleep at night

You are an emotional nightmare

You are a misfit

You like to hurt yourself

And you don't know why

You're trapped inside your own hell

No one else knows your name

See the misfit in the mirror

See the freak that lives inside

See the misfit in the mirror cry

See the one nobody wanted,

Shattered by a world of lies

See the misfit in the mirror die

You always crash your car,

You're like a permanent scar,

You're just a walking disaster

You are the opposite of moving faster

When you've pushed around,

When all your walls fall down

And when they call you misfit it's so hard to stop the rage

See the misfit in the mirror

See the freak that lives inside

See the misfit in the mirror cry

See the one nobody wanted,

Shattered by a world of lies

See the misfit in the mirror die

I see you and I see everything that I hate

Darkness all around me, makes me suffocate

See the misfit in the mirror

See the freak that lives inside

See the misfit in the mirror cry

See the one nobody wanted,

Shattered by a world of lies

See the misfit in the mirror die
