

Letters From Silence, One More Day

This railway tracks have to get me somewhere
Deep inside maybe to the back of my head
This aching ego is cryin' for silence
And I'm still listening to it's same old tape

I can't stay here forever
Maybe just for one more day

In big cities bred just like machines
Covered with some human flesh
And for now I can't feel anything
But not all is lost
I still got warm blood in my veins

I can't stay here forever
Maybe just for one more day

Keep up the love song, baby...

I can?t stay here forever...
