

Liberty X, Impossible

i never knew this would be hard and now my heart is breaking down i always thought id hear you call my name now i cant hear the sound if there is a chance you know i will be like the fire that we kill (ohh ohh) do you know, is there another way there's still so much to say and i dont even know where to begin

situations critical, i believe we can survive cause my hearts cried, my soul dies everytime we say goodbye dont tell me its impossible, to save this heart of mine i never thought that we'd be strangers after all that we've become i never knew my world would come crashing down the moment you were gone, stop running out with things to change cause i can see light throughout the rain dont say its over now, we'll make it work somehow without you i dont know where ot begin

cause my hearts cries, my soul dies

oh we got lost along the way, but when the night is over, we could live another day cause something is taking over people change, for love remains the same

cause my hearts cries, my soul dies
dont tell me its impossible, to save this heart of mine
