

Life In Your Way, Meant To Be

You are beautiful amazing
Our friendship is ever growing
A never ending journey
I hold you in the highest a place that no other will touch
These days we've been back and forth so it's all or nothing now
This is our story our testimony and strength to push forward
May we constantly see with eyes of pure thought
You have been a part of who I am
It will never be forgotten
Us together us forever
This bond will not be broken
