

Lillix, Invisible

What can be done in order for you to perceive that I'm Not falling behind?
That's your vision, your delusion I was Here to begin
You interrupted our conclusions but we haven't begun
And you've placed your number one instead

So what, I'm different
Would you prefer if we were all like her?
You see the external illusions
We're all the same

(chorus)
I don't want to be gone-I don't want to be
When I am around
What do you want to see?
She...someone who isn't me
I don't want to be Invisible

When will this end, on who we will depend
And you're looking for the trend, from the one who came along
And now we've changed, who's to blame?
No one other than the other We'll get back to where we were, never longing over what's preferred
You never listened, told us to mind our business
Lies tried to ride your feelings words hide behind their meanings

(repeat chorus)

What can I do, just let it all pass through Convincing you to believe what's true
I don't want, want to be gone
I don't, I don't want no
