

Linda McLean, Burn The Boats

Burn the boats she said before you come to bed, I'll put some magic in your night
Set the flames she said and watch the stormy red, we'll stand and watch the spirits fly
Do it right she said or don't do it at all
I'll wait to see the skylight glow

Burn the boats she said before you come to bed, that's really all you need to know
I'll burn the boats for you, for you, I'll burn the boats for you, just for you.

Burn the boats she said before you come to bed, I'll stand and watch the skyline

I know you better, I know you better than you know yourself, than you know yourself, then you'll know

Do it right she said or don't do it at all

I'll burn the boats for you just for you I'll burn the boats for you, just for you I'll burn the boats for you
