

Linda Perry, Knock Me Out

you knocked me out
you bit my lip
you held me down and kept me sober through all this time
no regret
i guess that's just the way i liked it maybe, when i'm free i'll realize all he really wanted to share all the peace something i never wanted so wait, don't go
seems as though it's getting scary so please, don't you go wait, don't you go
you knocked me out
i could never feel the same i pushed you over
and here we will remain confusion who do you
and nothing's right
nobody but you has to, hold onto the fight just before you cry
won't change you
it won't change me
and i don't even wonder why want, touch, feel so much in life, yea we cry
i know, baby i know
but see i'm waking
i feel, i touch, i breathe, i cry i know this
so wait, wait
i said please, smile just before you cry don't you go
you knocked me out
i could never be the same
i pushed you over
but here we still remain
you knocked me out
i could never be the same
i can take the fight
but don't
don't you turn away
you knocked me out
you bit my lip
you held me down and kept me sober
