

Lindi Ortega, How The Wind Blows

Do you think that I should rectify the situation?
No matter how hard I try seems like I can't find a solution

Looks like I'm losing you
Looks like you're letting go
I guess there's no helping it
It's how the wind blows

I'm wishing I could turn back time, rewind, and make it all better
But now I'm in the back of your mind, just a girl, you wish you could forget her

Looks like I'm losing you
Looks like you're letting go
I guess there's no helping it
It's how the wind blows

I'm trying to hold back the rain and just remain here in denial
Before you put out the flame, say my name and throw it in the fire

Looks like I'm losing you
I guess there's no helping it
It's how the wind blows
