

Lindsay Lohan, Very Last Moment

Time stops for no one,
It moves on unaware.
It's easy not to notice,
It's easy not to care.
Conversation circles,
There's money changing hands.
I've been standing in the middle,
I've been caught up in the spin.
But out of the confusion,
The static and the noise.
You got my attention,
And made me wanna

(chorus)

Live like it's the last moon rising.
Scream just like no one's there.
Lose all of my defenses,
Hold you, touch you, love you like,
It's the very last moment in time.

It seems like I woke up,
Beneath a different sky.
And I'm drunk on what I'm seeing,
Through these open eyes.
All the little ways you move me,
All the places you expose.
The illusion I held onto,
You've got me letting go.
I just wanna stay here,
Soaking up the rain.
Falling all around me.
Wash the world away.

(repeat chorus)

Let me feel you next to me.
Let me taste the breath you breathe.
Open up the space,
Between us.

(repeat chorus out)
