

Lindsay Robins, Terrified

Are we running low
Is love used up
Is it worth the risk
No matter what

I wonder if not now then when
Is it possible to again
Can I open up my arms and let it in

I'm terrified of love
And scared to be alone
I'm looking for someone looking for me
I'm terrified of ending up
Like this somehow
I haven't felt a thing for so long now

Am I holding back
Have I grown cold
Am I losing sight
Before I'm old

I wonder if this is the end
And will I ever feel again
Can I open up my arms
And let it in

I'm terrified of love
And scared to be alone
I'm looking for someone looking for me
I'm terrified of ending up
Like this somehow
I haven't felt a thing for so long now

Time is never kind
It twists our hearts
Until we cry for mercy
I wake up and I'm numb
I wish someone
Would try to hurt me

I'm terrified of love
And scared to be alone
I'm looking for someone looking for me
I'm terrified of ending up
Like this somehow
I haven't felt a thing for so long now
