

Lion's Share, Shadows

I saw her standing by the shore her eyes they looked so sad never seen her like this way before

She felt a pain behind her eyes burning inside pictures flashing by, memories on the rise

Could it be shadows from her past she tries to understand, they're

Fading fast

The visions took her by surprise she fell on her knees, terror in disguise

Could it be shadows from her past
she tries to understand, they're
fading fast
could this be shadows from the past she tries to understand but they don't last

In the dark voices calling, calling to her in her dream and she feels like there is something trying to break through

Strait-jacket keeps her safe and sound
burning inside
her eyes are looking sad the world is spinning round

Could it be shadows from her past
she tries to understand, they're
fading fast
could this be shadows from the past
she tries to understand but
they don't last