

Liquido, No sensitive healing

We've only just begun to feel as one now, actions guaranteed and i know it's everytime the same been spinning around, can't live without the sound of our raging hearts and we know our possession is okay, it's okay take it or not that's what you're saying we've got a plan to erase our feelings living on the edge and don't stop breathing don't have the time for s-s-sensitive healing we can get away from all these places we don't wanna be take a ride and keep your head on straight destination unknown, let's fuel the phoenix, moving on with you don't you know it's everytime the same, it's everytime the same, it's okay we have heard it all before, the morals come and go, it's about time to go we don't have the time for sensitive healing
