

Lisa Ekdahl, I Dont Miss You Anymore

I don't miss you anymore
Unless the moonlight's grey
Or on a stogy night
I just might miss you
A little bit

I don't miss you anymore
Unless it's a cloudy day
Or if the sun shines bright
I just might miss you
Not in there

I don't miss you
'Till the morning fills the air
Or the afternoon is fair
Or the evening light is barely there

I don't miss you
And you know is not a lie
Unless the moon is floating high above the perfect midnight sky

I don't miss you
'Till the morning fills the air
Or the afternoon is fair
Or the evening light is barely there

I don't miss you
And you know is not a lie
Unless the moon is floating high above the perfect midnight sky

I don't miss you anymore
Unless i close my eyes
Especially open wide
I see i miss you every day
