

Lisa Marie Presley, Now What

When I left and I said goodbye
Did you know that I meant it that time
I guess that I didnt quite realize
What I was saying goodbye to just yet
The only asphalt
To pave my way
There was you
And damn it if I didnt try to do everything that I was supposed to
And now what do I do now
I dont know cause Im still leaving
Now whose gonna save me next time
Oh not you for the first time
The road to get to the other side of your rainbow
It wasnt for me I guess
I couldnt live not according to your path
I can leave at least
And damn it if I didnt give it a damn good shot at least to try and be
What do I do now
I dont know cause Im still leaving
And now whose gonna save me next time
No not you for the first time
Somehow Ill be alright
Somehow Ill be alright
When I left and I said goodbye
Did you know that I meant it that time
And damn it if I didnt try to do everything that I was supposed to
And now what do I do now
I dont know Im still leaving
Now whose gonna save me next time
It wont be you for the first time
Somehow Ill be alright
Somehow Ill be alright
